

Professional Associations, Listservs, Newsletters & Directory

The American Evaluation Association Homepage

The American Evaluation Association (AEA) is an international professional association of evaluators devoted to the application and exploration of program evaluation, personnel evaluation, technology, and many other forms of evaluation. Included on their site are information about the organization, topical interest groups, and extensive links.
<http://www.eval.org> Current as of January 27, 2003.

The AEA Discussion Listserv

As described on the site: EVALTALK is an open, unmoderated list for general discussion of evaluation and associated issues sponsored by the American Evaluation Association and hosted by The University of Alabama. Over a thousand evaluation professionals and students from around the world subscribe to EVALTALK and a number of prominent scholars in the field regularly participate in the discussions.
<http://members.home.net/saumitra/AEA/evaltalk.html> Current as of January 27, 2003.
 To subscribe, email: listserv@bama.ua.edu Current as of January 27, 2003.

Extension Education Evaluation Topical Interest Group

Started informally in 1981 by a group of Cooperative Extension Evaluators, the Extension Education Evaluation Topical Interest Group was officially organized in 1986 to include other persons who work in nonformal education. With more than 160 members, EEE is one of the most active TIGs in AEA. Monthly e-forum articles can be found under Hear it from the Board.
<http://danr.ucop.edu/eee-aea/> Current as of January 27, 2003.

The European Evaluation Society Newsletter

This is the site of a newsletter published by the European Evaluation Society, containing a listing and link to articles from the newsletter.
<http://www.europeanevaluation.org/newslett/newslett.htm> Current as of January 27, 2003.

The Evaluation Exchange

The Evaluation Exchange is a quarterly national newsletter published by the Harvard Family Research Project, on emerging strategies in evaluating family support and community development programs.
<http://gseweb.harvard.edu/~hfrp/eval/> Current as of January 27, 2003.

Evaluation and Program Planning Journal

As described on the site: "The primary goals of the journal are to assist evaluators and [program] planners to improve the practice of their professions, to develop their skills and to improve their knowledge base." Contains articles on specific evaluation or program planning efforts, discussions of issues relevant to the conduct of evaluation and planning, and book reviews.
<http://www.elsevier.com:80/inca/publications/store/5/9/3/> Current as of January 27, 2003.

The Evaluators' Institute

This site contains information about The Evaluators' Institute, which offers short-term professional development courses for practicing evaluators.
<http://www.evaluatorsinstitute.com/> Current as of January 27, 2003.

Directory of Evaluators

As described on the site: This directory provides basic contact information from and about evaluators both nationally and internationally. Developed with support from the National Science Foundation, it is provided as a service to those seeking evaluation assistance.
<http://ec.wmich.edu/evaldir/evalmenu.htf> Current as of January 27, 2003.

UK Evaluation Society

The UKES exists to promote and improve the theory, practice, understanding and utilization of evaluation and its contribution to public knowledge. It was founded in 1994 and already has over 200 full members with a further 700 individuals registering an interest in the Society's activities.

<http://www.evaluation.org.uk/Frames/index.htm> Current as of January 27, 2003.

Centre for Program Evaluation

The Centre for Program Evaluation (CPE) is an evaluation and research centre located within the Department of Education Policy and Management in the Faculty of Education at The University of Melbourne, Australia.

<http://www.edfac.unimelb.edu.au/cpe/cpe.html> Current as of January 27, 2003.